Strained Calm Now Exists On 'Bama Campus

Pair Of Legal Crises Faces University As Negro Coed Is Ousted

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (P)—Two crises confront the University of Alabama, beset by problems stemming from its removal of racial barriers by court order.

A strained calm ruled today on the campus, scene of disorders that erupted in protest against integration, as university officials faced these problems.

1. A Negro coed, excluded from the campus "until further notice" after increasingly violent demonstrations against her presence, threatens court action unless she is admitted to class by tomorrow.

Authorine Lucy, 26, first of her race to enter the 125-year-old university, said yesterday: "I am still determined to attend the University of Alabama."

2. And William Adams, dean of admissions at the school, has been summoned into federal court at Birmingham tomorrow to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for the school's refusal to enroll Mrs. Polly Ann Hudson.

THE TWO Birmingham women both won a federal court ruling that the university cannot deny Negroes enrollment because of their race.

The board of trustees denied Mrs. Hudson admission on the basis of her "conduct and marital record." She is seeking a divorce. She charged that the order was a "smear."

The Lucy-Hudson cases reached their turbulent climax last week after the university lost the legal

Glenn Griffith Is Candidate For Auditor

Glenn Griffith, who was born at Parrott's Station in Fayette County, is making his first bid for public office in seeking the Republican nomination for Fayette County auditor in the May primary election.

He is running for the unexpired term of the late Ulric Acton and faces opposition from Harry Allen, the incumbent who was appointed to the office last November.

Griffith went to the elementary schools of Washington C. H. and was graduated from the high school here. From high school he entered the Office Training School in Columbus to take a course in business administration.

Upon completion of the course, he went with the Adams Express Co. as relief agent and traveling auditor. After gaining more experience as an accountant for the Fisher Audit Co. of Columbus, he spent 21 years as a traveling salesman, first with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. of Winston-Salem, N. C., then with the Keasbey & Mattson Co. of Ambler, Pa., to handle a line of asbestos products and finally with the C. V. Hill Co., man-

Senate May Have To Quell Squabble Between Probers

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today the Senate itself will have to resolve any dispute over who is to investigate a $2,500 campaign contribution offered Sen. Case (R-SD).

George said a special four-man committee set up by a 90-9 Senate vote yesterday expects Case and six subpoenaed witnesses to testify at all public hearings the group plans to open Friday.

George, who heads the committee, said he hopes it can finish with its witnesses by Saturday, report early next week, and call up its report for Senate action sometime after next Wednesday.

But Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said he planned to ask the Senate Rules Committee for its backing in an inquiry by its elections subcommittee.

Hennings, who heads the subcommittee, sought unsuccessfully to take testimony from Case about the incident yesterday.

There were some indications that Rules Committee Chairman Green (D-R) and others are not happy about Hennings' move to air the matter ahead of the George committee, which had the backing of Senate leaders.

George said if Hennings tries to go ahead with the Case inquiry, the jurisdiction of his subcommittee will be challenged and the Senate will have to referee.

Hennings and Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) voted yesterday to subpoena James M. Neff, attorney from Lexington, Neb., who offered the $2,500 to Case. Sen. Curtis (R-Neb), the third subcommittee member, protested the action as being "in defiance of the Senate."

Case was asked to appear at the same hour before both the Hennings and George groups. He chose to appear before the latter.

Later he appeared at a closed session of the Hennings subcommittee. He brought with him a letter from the other committee asserting its "exclusive jurisdiction" to investigate the incident.

The letter "respectfully requested" Case not to appear before any other committee and to "make no public statements on this matter" until its hearing Friday.

Neff was one of those put under subpoena by the George committee. Neff has said he delivered 25

Wayne Anglers Club Starts Up Again

The Wayne Anglers Club has a new lease on life today.

The club, inactive for several years, got rolling again at a meeting held in Wayne Hall to adopt a new constitution and bylaws.

Meetings were set up on a quarterly basis, with a session slated for the first Monday of every third month. Meetings will get underway at 8 P.M.

Nine new members joined the club: Forrest Miller, Charles Seaver, Dane Mossbarger, Willard Buder, Russel Hatfield, Homer Souther, Dale E. Reisinger, Floyd Rea and Dale Clark.

Lee Reisinger was elected treasurer, replacing Kenneth Foster, who resigned the post.

Lunch was served at the close of the business meeting.

The club's next session is slated for May 7.

Roy McAdams, nationally known photographer and lecturer, spoke on the photographer's responsibility to his art and his own taste at a meeting Tuesday evening of the Fayette Camera Club.

He stressed the importance of technical skill but pointed out that skill is useless if the photographer has nothing to contribute.

He illustrated his talk with a few of his own prints.

McAdams judged the regular print and color slide competition for the club, choosing a still life by president Donald Moore for top honors.

First prize in black and white was a back-lighted woodland scene by Delbert Hays.

Miss Ragna Stemner took second place with a color slide with unusual depth and perspective, while Roland Hites took third place in both black and white and color.

The school still can appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Dr. O. C. Carmichael, university president, told the university's 400 faculty members that outsiders who "invaded our campus" were "largely responsible for the resulting disorder."

He said that because of the violence the board of trustees "dared not postpone action lest greater violence" should follow.

A resolution asserting that the university cannot operate unless faculty and students are protected from "mob rule" was submitted to the meeting. Carmichael ruled it was tabled by voice vote.

The university's Student Government Assn. adopted a resolution denouncing "mob violence" and urging that "means be taken to protect the future personal safety of the students and faculty and the reputation of the university."

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. Max Schlichter, Route 1, Bloomingburg, are announcing the birth of an eight pound fourteen and one half ounce daughter, by Caesarean section, in Memorial Hospital, Wednesday at 8:44 A. M.

Heart Fund Drive Underway; Coin Collection Boxes Out

Appearance of those red plastic hearts in business places throughout the county signals the opening of the 1956 Heart Fund drive here.

The heart - shaped coin containers are one of three major fund - raising methods to be used by the county Heart Association, according to Miss Marian Moore, chairman of the association's campaign.

Another highlight of the drive will be a benefit motion picture show at the Fayette Theater on Feb. 22 and 23, tickets to which are now on sale by members of the Washington C. H. High School Y-Teen Club.

Climax of the month - long fund drive will come on Heart Sunday, Feb. 26, when workers will make a door-to-door canvass for donations.

Three quarters of the money collected here will go to the Central Ohio Heart Association, of which the county Heart Association is a part, Miss Moore said. The remaining 25 percent of the money will go to the national association.

BUT THE purpose of the money remaining here in Central Ohio and that going to the national association will be the same, she said. It will be used to help in the fight against the nation's number one killer, heart disease.

Heart and circulatory diseases are the chief cause of death here in Fayette County as in the nation as a whole, Miss Moore pointed out in urging support of the county Heart Association's drive.

Heart Fund contributions help pay for the association's three-

Musical Is Written By Shirley Hickman

Shirley Hickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hickman, is the writer of the all-campus musical show, "Bag O' Gold," which will be presented on March 23 and 24, at Miami University in Oxford.

"Bag O' Gold" is concerned with the off-stage lives of the cast and participants of a big-time TV quiz show of that name. Four scenes are used for the musical comedy satire, including a TV apartment, the "Golden Slipper" night club and a park.

Miss Hickman is a junior in the School of Education. She is a graduate of Washington C. H. High School.

Zeta Upsilon, whose president is Mrs. Ruth Glass.

Plans for the final phase of the drive—the Heart Sunday canvass—will be completed next week at a meeting of the county Heart Association and its key workers.

Slated for Feb. 13, the planning session will begin at 7:30 P. M. in the banquet room of the Hotel Marion.

A goal for the county drive has not been announced, but the goal for the state is $1,250,000, Miss Moore announced.

All the national, state and regional Heart Associations' programs, she added, are supported solely by the annual Heart Fund drives.

4-H Club Activities

The Busy Hands Club has a new slate of officers today, headed by Margie Hurt, president.

Other new officers: Freda Hamilton, vice president; Cecilia Donahue, secretary; Jeanie Moore, treasurer; Sharon Schorr, recreation leader; Ruth Ann Minshall, health and safety chairman; Kathleen Le Master, calling chairman; Ann Dixon, social chairman, and Joyce Bachelor, scrapbook chairman.

Other business of the meeting included a vote to make sewing the club project and to collect a nickel's dues at each meeting.

Refreshments and games closed the meeting, held at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Charles Hurt. Miss Linda Frederick, the junior advisor, was also present.

WE-DOOD-IT

The members of the We-Dood-It 4-H club discussed and outlined a program for the year at the club's last meeting, held at the home of Bob Montgomery and advisor Barton Montgomery.

A hayride has been scheduled for May with tentative plans made for a swimming party in April. The members decided to make contributions to the polio and heart funds.

Officers elected for the year were Pat Scott, president; Bill Riley, vice president; Karla Gorman, secretary; Robbie Hagler, treasurer.

Nancy Marting, news reporter; Carolyn Marting, health and safety leader and Bob Montgomery, Garry Ivers and Garry Stoddard, recreation leaders.

Robbie Hagler was appointed to buy a frame for the club's honor achievement certificate. Karla Gorman was selected to investigate purchasing for each member of the club a sign saying "A 4-H member lives here."

The club advisors are Sam Marting, Sr. and Barton Montgomery.

Slated for Feb. 13, the planning session will begin at 7:30 P. M. in the banquet room of the Hotel Washington.

A goal for the county drive has not been announced, but the goal for the state is $1,250,000, Miss Moore announced.

All the national, state and regional Heart Associations' programs, she added, are supported solely by the annual Heart Fund drives.

4-H Club Activities

The Busy Hands Club has a new slate of officers today, headed by Margie Hurt, president.

Other new officers: Freda Hamilton, vice president; Cecilia Donahue, secretary; Jeannie Moore, treasurer; Sharon Schorr, recreation leader; Ruth Ann Minshall, health and safety chairman; Kathleen Le Master, calling chairman; Ann Dixon, social chairman, and Joyce Bachelor, scrapbook chairman.

Other business of the meeting included a vote to make sewing the club project and to collect a nickel's dues at each meeting.

Refreshments and games closed the meeting, held at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Charles Hurt. Miss Linda Frederick, the junior advisor, was also present.

WE-DOOD-IT

The members of the We-Do-It 4-H club discussed and outlined a program for the year at the club's last meeting, held at the home of Bob Montgomery and advisor Barton Montgomery.

A hayride has been scheduled for May with tentative plans made for a swimming party in April. The members decided to make contributions to the polio and heart funds.

Officers elected for the year were Pat Scott, president, Bill Riley, vice president, Karla Gorman, secretary, Robbie Hagler, treasurer, Nancy Marting, news reporter, Eosaly Marting, health and safety leader and Bob Montgomery, Garry Ivers and Garry Stoddard, recreation leaders.

Robbie Hagler was appointed to buy a frame for the club's honor achievement certificate. Karla Gorman was selected to investigate purchasing for each member of the club a sign saying "A 4-H member lives here."

The club advisors are Sam Marting, Sr. and Barton Montgomery.

REQUEST CONSIDERED

GREENFIELD — City council has delayed granting permission to the veterans organizations for use of the streets for a carnival, due to much opposition.

The club advisors are Sam Marting, Sr. and Barton Montgomery.

A St. Valentine's Gift To Protect The Living

There are many stories about the origin of St. Valentine's Day, the day we are about to celebrate. Most of them agree it is a time for giving as well as indulging affairs of the heart.

Some of the stories go back as far as the old Romans, who reputedly established the day for a feast giving thanks to their gods, Juno and Inus. In preparation for the event, so the tale is told, the men drew dinner companions by lot.

A more modern account of St. Valentine's Day comes from England, where each February 14 was celebrated for the romantic notion that it was the day the birds chose for mating. Students of ancient languages, apparently as romantic as the collectors of folklore, connect St. Valentine's Day to the Norman word, "galatine," which means a galant or a suitor. In his abundant diary, Mr. Pepys says it's a day, named for St. Valentine, when gentlemen show their fondness for their favorite ladies by plying them with valuable gifts.

The sentiments of the day have come down to us along with a latter-day symbol—a pleasantly geometrical heart—to represent its significance. And something has been added in recent years; St. Valentine's Day now denotes the halfway mark in Heart Month, whose symbol is also a geometric heart.

This makes sense. For where is there a greater dedication to "affairs of the heart" in Fayette County and elsewhere than through the Heart Association? How better can we attend to the heart than by giving to the Heart Fund drive which is conducted during this month?

The Heart Fund supports research to discover more about the heart, and supports programs reporting the discoveries to physicians and the public. It also backs community heart programs designed to guard healthy hearts and to assist heart victims remain productive members of society.

There is a serious need for this kind of service. Science still must learn about much, despite the $13,000,000 boost the Heart Association has given it in the past seven years. The heart and circulatory diseases still constitute the nation's No. 1 health problem.

On St. Valentine's Day, when we are thinking about the heart and giving, we believe there is no more appropriate gift than the one you can make to your Heart Association. We urge you to give, and to give generously, to help your Heart Fund help all our hearts.

short-lived intellectual cult, as if he were no more than a faddist with a gift for words.

Somehow I believe they are wrong. I think that if we could return here a century hence we would find that the clarion accents of the sprightly "Baltimore sage" had won a more enduring place in literature than the gibberish of many literary critics today who find life so overpowering and confusing.

Certainly those who would pigeon-hole Mencken as merely a smart alec long-hair idolized temporarily by sophomoric college kids have got the wrong man in the wrong container. His mind didn't wrap easily into any known package.

As did 18th century lexicographer, Sam Johnson, Mencken became for a time a top literary spokesman of his time. He helped an entire new generation of authors to break away from the syrupy echoes of the past and start writing the vinegar truths of the present.

What other writer of the 20th century did more to put the stamp of world acceptability on the emerging new language, the American language?

Mencken truly belonged in the company of "the great questioners" such as Jonathan Swift, Voltaire, Samuel Butler, Thomas Hardy, Mark Twain and George Bernard Shaw. These are men who looked behind the easy beliefs of mankind for the hard answers.

The disease is highly infectious, and the victim must be isolated. It is spread by coming in contact with a person who has the disease, or with articles recently soiled by discharges from the nose, throat or skin of an infected person.

Your child may feel ill and have a slight fever a day or two before the familiar skin rash appears. There is no sore throat with chicken pox.

The incubation period ranges between 14 and 21 days, usually about 17 days. In some cases, the rash covers the entire body, even the scalp and the inside of the mouth. In others, the spots escape notice.

With a few precautions, you can make your youngster, or other patient, a little more comfortable, and protect him from possible secondary infections.

Any Age

Chicken pox may occur at any age, but in large towns and cities most victims are between 5 and 15 years old. It's caused by a virus closely related to that causing herpes zoster, or shingles.

Sorority Holds Regular Meeting At Loudner Home

Mrs. Emerson Chapman was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of Xi Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Joe F. Loudner.

The opening ritual was in charge of Mrs. Roy Hagler, president, and following the usual reports, roll call was responded to by twelve members who told of things they resolved to do during the year.

Mrs. Edward Sexton, treasurer, reported a nice sum in the redemption of sales tax stamps, to be added to the treasury, and Mrs. Charles Piersick, received a vote of thanks for the "Husband's Party" at the Piersick home January 28.

It was decided to serve lunch at the Angus Sale at the Fairgrounds April 20, with Mrs. Edward Sexton, chairman, Mrs. Ray Jennings and Mrs. Roy Hagler, of this project.

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. Roy Hagler, Mrs. Robert Olinger, Mrs. Floyd West, and Mrs. Lee Alderman was named to choose officers for the coming year.

The cultural program was in charge of Mrs. Harry Campbell, who introduced Mrs. Chapman, in a most interesting talk on the subject "What the Pre-School Child Should Know".

Mrs. Chapman, first grade teacher at Eber School, referred to school as a happy journey for the child, and the first grader should be thoroughly acquainted with the school room requirements before their first day of school.

Emphasis on courtesy, behavior, health, safety and stability, was stressed by Mrs. Chapman, who believes in "Beginner's Day" as the most important day in the child's life.

The teaching of health rules, the care of books, and also safety rules are most important the speaker pointed out in referring to beginners in school as our future citizens.

Mrs. Campbell presented Mrs. Chapman with a gift which was graciously responded to, and the meeting was adjourned with the closing ritual. During the social hour Mrs. Loudner served a tempting salad course.

Mrs. Evans Entertains Club Members

Mrs. Lewis Evans was hostess to fourteen members of the Bloomingburg Kensington Club at her home near Bloomingburg Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Don Thornton and the singing of the club hymn was followed with devotions led by Mrs. Charles Porter which included Scripture reading from St. Matthew and prayer.

The usual reports were read and accepted and short readings were given by Mrs. Charles Porter who read "The Big Snow of 1950"; Mrs. Walter Noble read "Prayer"; Mrs. Don Thornton, "My Grandmother's Cupboard"; Mrs. Wayne Bloomer, "It's No Place To Go"; Mrs. Forrest Hains, "First Love" and the closing reading by Mrs. Charles Hughes was "Life Is An Inn".

The meeting was closed with the club benediction and the hostess conducted several amusing games and contests.

During the social hour and her hostess Mrs. Charles Porter were assisted by her daughters, Sandra and Beverly and Mrs. Wayne Bloomer in the serving of a dainty salad course.

Members present were: Mrs. Wayne Bloomer, Mrs. Ella Blake, Mrs. John Groff, Miss Catherine Gossard, Mrs. Vere C. Foster, Mrs. Forrest Hains, Mrs. W. P. Noble, Mrs. Ogan Riley, Mrs. Don Thornton, Mrs. Charles Hughes, Mrs. La Warner and Mrs. Cora Wilson.

Two 4-H Members Here Will Get State Award

JUNIOR LEADERSHIP AWARDS will go to these two young Fayette Countians for their outstanding work in the 4-H program here. They are Gene Gustin and Marilyn Heistand, who between them have piled up 17 years of experience in 4-H work. Marilyn has been a 4-H member for nine years and Gene for eight. (Record-Herald photo)

Two Fayette County 4-H members have been selected to receive a state award presented to only one club member in 500.

They are Marilyn Heistand and Gene Gustin. They will receive the state Junior Leadership honor award at a two-day award conference to be held in Columbus March 23 and 24.

Between them, Gene and Marilyn have 17 years of experience in the 4-H program. Both are currently serving their second year on the Junior Fair Board and each holds office on the board. Gene is its president and Marilyn is news reporter.

The youngsters were chosen for the honor by the county 4-H Council. Each county's council is allowed to choose one youngster to receive the award for every 500 club members in the county.

Since Fayette County lists more than 800 4-H members, and the number of members is rounded to the nearest 500, the council was able to choose two candidates.

PURPOSE OF the award, the council announced, is threefold.

It is intended (1) to recognize outstanding service by junior leaders; (2) to provide further opportunity to develop leadership; and (3) to apply members' experience in 4-H activities on a state level.

The new nominees will be initiated into the state Junior Leadership club during the award conference next month.

Marilyn, a senior at Bloomingburg High School, has been a junior leader in the Bloomingburg Star Fashinette for the past year and is also a member of the Y-Teens and the Youth Fellowship of Grace Methodist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Heistand of the Devaon Road.

Gene is a 1950 graduate of Washington C. H. High School and is an advisor of the Wayne Progressive Farmers. He is also a member of the Washington C. H. Chapter of the Future Farmers of America. He lives with his aunt, Mrs. Carrie Wilson of the Anderson Road.

The youngsters bring to eight the number of Fayette Countians who have received the award in the five years of its existence. Previous selections of the 4-H Council have been Johnnny Melvin, Roberta Theobald, Roger Bonham, Jean

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Who ever heard of using a telephone book as a history book? Believe it or not, Miss Clara Davis' fifth grade students at Eastside School have been doing that very thing during the last week.

Furthermore, these students have been quizzing their parents on the information found in the directory, and their parents have not done too well.

It all happened when Miss Lilian Taylor, a former teacher at Central School, now retired, suggested to Miss Davis that there was a wealth of Fayette County and Washington Court House history in the blue pages of the telephone directory.

Miss Taylor called the local office of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company and asked for some directories and explained the intended use.

Through the courtesy of Paul Dougherty, enough copies were sent to Eastside's fifth grade so that each pupil had one, as well as a small personal directory.

After studying the information contained in the blue pages of the directory, the pupils worked out a test to give to their parents on the local history.

It was on this test that so many of the parents received a failing grade.

Try the questions yourself. The answers are all found in the blue pages of your telephone directory.

1. For whom was Hinde Street named?

2. For whom was Temple Street named?

3. In what year was the first log cabin built in Washington Court House?

4. Who was the first elected mayor of Washington Court House?

5. When was the first log court house built?

6. Who was the first merchant in Washington Court House and where was his shop?

7. When was the first business started in Washington Court House?

8. For whom and what was Washington Court House named?

9. Who taught the first school in Washington Court House, and where?

10. For whom was Fayette County named?

(Thanks Miss Taylor, Miss Davis, and Paul Dougherty.)

Believe it or not, Miss Clara Davis' fifth grade students at Eastside School have been doing that very thing during the last week.

Furthermore, these students have been quizzing their parents on the information found in the directory, and their parents have not done too well.

It all happened when Miss Lillian Taylor, a former teacher at Central School, now retired, suggested to Miss Davis that there was a wealth of Fayette County and Washington Court House history in the blue pages of the telephone directory.

Miss Taylor called the local office of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company and asked for some directories and explained the intended use.

Through the courtesy of Paul Dougherty, enough copies were sent to Eastside's fifth grade so that each pupil had one, as well as a small personal directory.

After studying the information contained in the blue pages of the directory, the pupils worked out a test to give to their parents on the local history.

It was on this test that so many of the parents received a failing grade.

Try the questions yourself. The answers are all found in the blue pages of your telephone directory.

1. For whom was Hinde Street named?

2. For whom was Temple Street named?

3. In what year was the first log cabin built in Washington Court House?

4. Who was the first elected mayor of Washington Court House?

5. When was the first log court house built?

6. Who was the first merchant in Washington Court House and where was his shop?

7. When was the first business started in Washington Court House?

8. For whom and what was Washington Court House named?

9. Who taught the first school in Washington Court House, and where?

10. For whom was Fayette County named?

(Thanks Miss Taylor, Miss Davis, and Paul Dougherty.)

Your Income Tax

Editor's Note: Following is the eighth in a series of ten articles dealing with procedures for making out a tax return on your 1955 income.

By FRANK O'BRIEN

AP Staff Writer
Now we come to the special tax problems of the self employed, a legion some six million strong and including all the nation's independent businessmen, partnerships and professional earners.

This group—except for social security tax—is taxed at the same rate as other individuals. It therefore does not include corporations, which are taxed at different rates, and use entirely different tax forms.

One huge point of confusion resulting from the government's terminology should be cleared up at once. This is: self employment tax as used on tax forms and in government tax instructions and the official "Your Federal Income Tax" means the social security tax (not income tax) of self employed persons.

Not all the self employed are subject or eligible for social security tax or benefits. Not all kinds of self employment income may be counted toward social security benefits, and therefore not all kinds of self employment income are subject to the social security tax.

But so far as their income tax is concerned, the self employed are all subject to tax, and all types of incomes may be taxed, within the same limitations as apply to all other individuals.

That is:
The self employed may be subject to two federal taxes on their income, and they handle the two separately, one being their income tax, and the other their social security tax. Where you find "self employment tax" on your tax forms (for instance page 3 of Schedule C called "Computation of Self Employment Tax"), and Line 13 on page 1 of Form 1040, just read it "social security tax" to avoid confusion with the income tax.

The self employed (so far as their own business is concerned) do not pay their income tax by withholding, as do employees. Therefore, nearly all the self employed must file declarations of estimated tax, and make quarterly estimated tax payments. They may also be employers, who with hold from others and are thus obliged to report and pay to the government withholdings for their employees' income and social security taxes.

1. The federal income tax of the self employed:

You must file a return if (as in the case of all other individual taxpayers) you had gross income of $600 or more in 1955 ($1,200 or more if you are 65 or older). For social security purposes you may have to file if your net income was $400 or more.

You handle your business and your personal affairs separately. Your business income is reported separately, on Schedule C, (Schedule F for farmers) where you add up your business income, take your business deductions (including depreciation), and determine your net business income.

This you transfer to line 8 (line 9 for farmers) on page 1 of Form 1040. You then add in any other income you had (from salaries, dividends, nonbusiness interest payments, nonbusiness rent, etc.) and complete the standard individual tax form as does any other individual, filing jointly if you desire.

You figure out your social security tax for self employment on page 3 of Schedule C (Schedule F for farmers), which has instructions on the back. You may have to file a social security tax return (including Form 1040) even though you owe no income tax.

At the bottom of this page is Schedule SE, for reporting your social security tax. Both husband and wife must fill out separate Schedules SE (even if they are filing jointly) if both are reporting for social security.

Partnerships report on a different form—1965. Each partner then enters his share of the net profits (exclusive of capital gains, dividends, etc., entered in different schedules), in Schedule H of Form 1040. He then enters his net partnership income (plus other income) at Line 10 (Other Income) on page 1 of Form 1040, and completes the form (joint or separate) like other individual taxpayers.

2. The Social Security tax of the self employed.

In the case of an employee, the employee and the employee contribute equally to the 4 per cent social security tax on earnings of the employee, up to $4,200.

Eligible self employed pay a compromise percentage—3 per cent—but on the same amount of earnings—up to $4,200. No social security tax need be paid if your applicable net earnings in the year were under $400, however.

If you were partly self employed and partly an employee in 1955, earning some wages from which social security taxes were withheld, deduct from $4,200 the amount of wages from which taxes were withheld. You pay the 3 per cent social security tax by the self employed on the balance, up to $4,200. Your maximum social security tax if you were self em ployed, is $126 for 1955.

Occupations excluded from social security are those of public officials, physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, veterinarian, chiropractor, naturopath, optometrist and (unless they specifically ask to be covered) ministers of the gospel including Christian Science practitioners. Types of income excluded are set out in the instrucsentenced Jan. 31 for vandalism. Sherow's attorney, Henry W. Cherrington, said he would appeal Juvenile Court Judge John W. Howell dismissed a similar charge against the Tribune's courthouse reporter, Charles E. Butler, who testified that he left a written note on Sherow's desk stating that Judge Howell had requested that the names of the five juveniles not be published. Sherow admitted that he inserted a paragraph in

City Development Plan Now Nears Final Stages

Work on the plan for development and expansion of Washington C. H. according to a long-range master plan is now moving into the final stages as a major project of the School of City Design of Miami University at Oxford.

A group of the post-graduate students taking the course came to Washington C. H. Wednesday morning and planned to spend the next two days gathering data on the city, its government, buildings, zoning code, streets, distribution of industry and residential areas and even the people and way of life in the city and the entire county of which it is the geographical center.

These same students and Professor Rudolph Frankel, head of the school, have been making periodic visits here for the past six months. They came in smaller groups and stayed for only short periods, sometimes they did not even let the Chamber of Commerce know they were here.

The School of City Design under took the planning for Washington C. H. after Robert Terhune, the past president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Glen Allen, the manager, and Walter Morrow, the head of the Area Development Committee, talked over the possibilities with Prof. Frankel and university officials about six months ago.

The present project of the class is a part of the overall objective of the Area Development program.

And, the area development program was decided on after word had gone out from several reliable sources that an industrial upsurge could logically be expected in Ohio as a result of the authorization of the St. Lawrence Seaway. The seaway, it was pointed out, would make every port on Lake Erie a seaport.

Theory behind this is that with an outlet for world trade, the industrial growth of Ohio would spread all over the state—especially to those cities and towns which had plans for development.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—The state utilities commission has continued until March 20 a case in which railroads seek to boost Ohio freight charges seven per cent.

Groups opposed to the increase asked more time to prepare arguments and the commission complied, following Tuesday's hearing.

Witnesses representing railroads operating in Ohio had asked the boost effective Feb. 25. They said money could be refunded if the commission later reduced the increase.

The railroads claim that unless they can charge higher rates their plan to buy many new freight cars and locomotives will be slowed down and the public will suffer through poorer service.

Four cities, Cleveland, Youngstown, Toledo and Shelby, are fighting the increase along with coal, agriculture, grain, electric, industrial limestone, greenhouse and other interests.

Ohio River Flood Condition Feared

CINCINNATI (P)—The U. S. Weather Bureau here says rainfall expected later this week in the Ohio River Valley could cause possible flood conditions.

A bureau spokesman said that rain is "likely" tonight, tomorrow or Friday. He said on the basis of past rainfall, the river would probably crest below flood stages for most of its length.

"It's all for the good of the whole community," he said.

Allen and Morrow were at Miami last week to talk over the embryo plan for Washington C. H. and to study the plans for some other cities the class has worked out.

When they came back, they were overflowing with enthusiasm and expressed confidence that a practical and workable city design would be worked out for Washington C. H.

County Cage Turney Opens Feb. 15

Only 3 Teams
Are Slated To Play This Year

The regular season is almost over for the county's cagers, with only two games remaining on the schedule.

But in just over a week, the county cage scene will erupt into all the action anybody could want—the annual county turney.

Slated to open Feb. 15, the tournament will mean action for the Jeffersonville, Bloomingburg and Good Hope teams in all three classes: varsity, reserve and junior high.

The fourth county team, Madison Mills, will not participate in the turney this year. The high school has been barred from interscholastic athletics for the rest of the school year for failure to complete a game against Bloomingburg last Jan. 30.

With a three-team entry list, the turney is being run on a slightly different basis this year than it has in the past.

SUP'T. G. A. BIDDLE of Bloomingburg school, the tourney manager, explained that only two games will be held on each of the four nights of the tourney. In previous years, three games have been held each night.

That means that the whole tourney series will be limited to a total of eight games instead of the usual 12.

The usual double-elimination formula will be followed for the varsity teams and both the reserve and junior high battles will be on a single-elimination basis.

But since the whole tourney series will consist of only eight games, one team drew a bye on each of the three classes—varsity, reserve and junior high.

The drawing held Monday night at the county school office, set up opponents for the first two nights of the series. The last two nights will match winners of those earlier games.

THE SCHEDULE: Feb. 15 (Wednesday): Jeffersonville juniors vs. Wayne juniors at 7 P.M. (Bloomingburg drew a bye.) Bloomingburg vs. Wayne seniors at 8 P.M. (Jeffersonville drew a bye.)

Feb. 18 (Saturday): Bloomingburg reserves vs. Wayne reserves at 7 P.M. (Jeffersonville drew a bye.) Jeffersonville varsity vs. the winner of the Bloomingburg-Wayne varsity game at 8 P.M.

Feb. 23 (Thursday): Bloomingburg juniors vs. the winner of the Jeff-Wayne junior high game at 7 P.M. Varsity winners at 8 P.M.

Feb. 25 (Saturday): Jeffersonville reserves vs. the winner of the Bloomingburg-Wayne game at 7 P.M. Varsity winners in title match at 8 P.M.

The tourney will be held on the Washington C. H. High School court again this year, as it has been in the past.

Regular season games before the start of the tourney will match two county teams against non-league opponents. Both games are slated for Friday.

Bloomingburg will play at St. Mary's High School in Lancaster, while Good Hope will be host to Salt Creek.

Also slated for Friday is the final game in the regular season schedule for New Holland. That game will be Darby on the New Holland court. It was to have been played last Jan. 20, but was postponed when slippery roads made traveling next to impossible.

Bud Smith Irked

BOSTON (P)—Lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith today curbed his anger at the vote of the officials in his upset loss to a comparative unknown.

"Just say I'm plenty peeved, that's all," Smith said after dropping a divided decision to 19-year-old Larry Boardman of Marlboro, Conn., in a non-title 10-rounder last night.

Referee Joe Zapustas and Judge Jim Shaughnessy voted for Boardman, 94-93 and 95-94. Judge Joe Healy scored it 98-95.

Zone Defense Almost Fatal To Tarheel '5'

North Carolina State
Edges Virginia As
Dons Chalk Up No. 43

(By The Associated Press)

Chances are the handful of Eastern college basketball coaches who want to ax the zone defense could get North Carolina State's Ev Case to sign his name in a big, bold hand right at the top of the petition today.

It was a tight zone thrown up by Virginia that bothered N.C. State no end Tuesday night and left the nation's fourth-ranked club breathing hard with a scant 77-76 victory. Just a few weeks back, the Wolfpack had ripped the Virginians 99-54.

Other top-ranked clubs, paced by San Francisco's No. 1 Dons and Dayton's No. 2 Flyers, had much less difficulty retaining their prestige.

The Dons belted College of the Pacific 77-60 to stretch their major college winning streak to 43 games.

Dayton triumphed 86-73 over little Miami (Ohio) but had to come from behind to get its 17-1 record.

Duke, No. 8 in the rankings, took a firm hold on the Atlantic Coast Conference lead by bashing Maryland 82-70, while runner-up North Carolina (10-12) swamped William and Mary 115-63. Southern Methodist, ranked 15th and clamoring for more attention, was an impressive 109-86 winner over Texas as Jim Krebs cannoned 50 points for a Southwest Conference record.

North Carolina State, 17-2 for the season and tied for third in the ACC, had a fit with Virginia's zone, but got the outside shooting it needed from Cliff Hafer, a 6-4 junior, who bagged 26 points. Twenty of them came in the second half when Virginia really put on the pressure.

Dayton, 41-37 at the half, Virginia cut N.C. State's lead to one point with 5 minutes remaining.

San Francisco, again parlaying its combination of All America Bill Russell and K. C. Jones, barged to a 44-23 lead at the half and never was in trouble. Russell scored 24 points.

Dayton, ticketed for the NIT, beat Miami 38-34 at the half, then took charge quickly after the intermission. Bill Uhl, seven-foot Dayton center, was high with 22 points after just being discharged from the infirmary after a flu attack.

Duke had to overcome an 11-9 Maryland lead. Ron Mayer was the big gun with 30.

Len Rosenbluth hit 45 points for the second time this season to pace North Carolina's hot attack that set a one-game Tarheel record.

Elsewhere, Butler spilt Notre Dame with Ted Guzek setting a Butler mark of 37 points.

Bloomingburg will play at St. Mary's High School in Lancaster, while Good Hope will be host to Salt Creek.

Also slated for Friday is the final game in the regular season schedule for New Holland. That game will be Darby on the New Holland court. It was to have been played last Jan. 20, but was postponed when slippery roads made traveling next to impossible.

County Cage Tourney Opens Feb. 15

Only 3 Teams Are Slated To Play This Year

The regular season is almost over for the county's cagers, with only two games remaining on the schedule.

But in just over a week, the county cage scene will erupt into all the action anybody could want—the annual county tourney.

Slated to open Feb. 15, the tournament will mean action for the Jeffersonville, Bloomingburg and Good Hope teams in all three classes: varsity, reserve and junior high.

The fourth county team, Madison Mills, will not participate in the tourney this year. The high school has been barred from interscholastic athletics for the rest of the school year for failure to complete a game against Bloomingburg last Jan. 30.

With a three-team entry list, the tourney is being run on a slightly different basis this year than it has in the past.

SUPT. G. A. BIDDLE of Bloomingburg School, the tourney manager, explained that only two games will be held on each of the four nights of the tourney. In previous years, three games have been held each night.

That means that the whole tourney series will be limited to a total of eight games instead of the usual 12.

The usual double-elimination formula will be followed for the varsity teams and both the reserve and junior high battles will be on a single-elimination basis.

But since the whole tourney series will consist of only eight games, one team drew a bye in each of the three classes—varsity, reserve and junior high.

The drawing, held Monday night at the county school office, set up opponents for the first two nights of the series. The last two nights will match winners of those earlier games.

THE SCHEDULE:

Feb. 15 (Wednesday): Jeffersonville juniors vs. Wayne juniors at 7 P. M. (Bloomingburg drew a bye). Bloomingburg varsity vs. Wayne varsity at 8 P. M. (Jeffersonville drew a bye).

Feb. 16 (Thursday): Bloomingburg reserves vs. Wayne reserves at 7 P. M. (Jeffersonville drew a bye). Jeffersonville varsity vs. the winner of the Bloomingburg-Wayne varsity game at 8 P. M.

Feb. 17 (Friday): Bloomingburg juniors vs. the winner of the Jeff-Wayne junior high game at 7 P. M. Varsity winners in title match at 8 P. M.

The tourney will be held on the Washington C. H. High School court again this year, as it has been in the past.

Regular season games before the start of the tourney will match two county teams against non-league opponents. Both games are slated for Friday.

Bloomingburg will play at St. Mary's High School in Lancaster, while Good Hope will be host to Salt Creek.

Also slated for Friday is the final game in the regular season schedule for New Holland. That game will be with Darby on the New Holland court. It was to have been played last Jan. 20, but was postponed when slippery roads made traveling next to impossible.

Bud Smith Irked By Ring Decision

BOSTON (P)—Lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith today curbed his anger at the vote of the officials in his upset loss to a comparative unknown.

"Just say I'm plenty peeved, that's all," Smith said after dropping a divided decision to 19-year-old Larry Boardman of Marlboro, Conn., in a non-title 10-rounder last night.

Referee Joe Zapatas and Judge Jim Shaughnessy voted for Boardman, 94-93 and 95-94. Judge Joe Heirty scored it 98-95.

Ohioan Gets Post

PRINCETON, N. J. (P)—The new assistant football coach of Princeton University is J. Robert Pflug, a native of Massillon, Ohio, 50, until now line coach at Brown University, replaces John Steigman who recently moved to Rutgers as head coach.

Zone Defense Almost Fatal To Tarheel '5'

North Carolina State Edges Virginia As Dons Chalk Up No. 43

(By the Associated Press)

Chances are the handful of Eastern college basketball coaches who want to ax the zone defense could get North Carolina State's Ev Case to sign his name in a big, bold hand right at the top of the petition.

It was a tight zone thrown up by Virginia that bothered N.C. State no end Tuesday night and left the nation's fourth-ranked club breathing hard with a scant 77-76 victory. Just a few weeks back, the Wolfpack had ripped the Virginians 99-54.

Other top-ranked clubs, paced by San Francisco's No. 1 Dons and Dayton's No. 2 Retainers, had much less difficulty Retaining their previous years, three games have been held each night.

The Dons belted College of the Pacific 77-60 to stretch their major college winning streak to 43 games.

Dayton triumphed 86-73 over little Miami (Ohio) but had to come from behind to get its 17- record.

Duke, No. 8 in the rankings, took a firm hold on the Atlantic Coast Conference lead by bashing Maryland 82-70, while runner-up North Carolina (No. 12) swamped William and Mary 115-63. Southern Methodist, ranked 15th and clamoring for more attention, was an impressive 109-96 winner over Tex. A&M as Jim Krebs canned 50 points for a Southwest Conference record.

North Carolina State, 17-2 for the season and tied for third in the ACC, had a fit with Virginia's zone, but got the outside shooting it needed from Cliff Hafer, a 64-junior, who bagged 26 points. Twenty of them came in the second half when Virginia really put on the pressure.

Feb. 18 (Saturday): Bloomingburg reserves vs. Wayne reserves at 7 P. M. (Jeffersonville drew a bye). Jeffersonville varsity vs. the winner of the Bloomingburg-Wayne varsity game at 8 P. M.

Feb. 19 (Sunday): Jeffersonville reserves vs. the winner of the Bloomingburg-Wayne game at 7 P. M. Varsity winners in title match at 8 P. M.

Feb. 20 (Monday): Bloomingburg juniors vs. the winner of the Jeff-Wayne junior high game at 7 P. M. Varsity winners in title match at 8 P. M.

Feb. 21 (Tuesday): Jeffersonville reserves vs. the winner of the Bloomingburg-Wayne game at 7 P. M. Varsity winners in title match at 8 P. M.

The tourney will be held on the Washington C. H. High School court again this year, as it has been in the past.

Regular season games before the start of the tourney will match two county teams against non-league opponents. Both games are slated for Friday.

Bloomingburg will play at St. Mary's High School in Lancaster, while Good Hope will be host to Salt Creek.

Also slated for Friday is the final game in the regular season schedule for New Holland. That game will be with Darby on the New Holland court. It was to have been played last Jan. 20, but was postponed when slippery roads made traveling next to impossible.

Paris Fashions

To Be Sold In Kits

PARIS (AP) — Make-it-yourself Paris fashions, at prices starting from about $15, have been shown here at the fashion parade.

Already on sale by mail order in the United States, the Gaston de Paris creations are shortly to be offered directly through American retail outlets.

The scheme for pre-cut dresses, suits and coats, with trimmings and materials, was started here experimentally last season. The clothes are designed by Serge Kogan, who worked with Dior, Lelong and Lily Dache in New York before opening his own Paris dress house. They are aimed at the millions of American women who do their own sewing.

Minstrel Show At Jeff Feb. 9

High School Actors To Perform Thursday

Thursday is the night for the big junior-senior minstrel show at Jeffersonville High School.

The youngsters will put on a whopping total of 33 acts, ranging from song-and-dance routines to rough pantomimes and instrumental solos to a tumbling routine.

All the proceeds will be split between the treasures of the junior and senior classes. Among the expenses the treasury is called upon to meet are the cost of the senior trip taken by each graduating class and the annual junior-senior prom.

Highlights of the show will be the traditional byplay of the interlocutor, Roger Crabtree, and the six endmen, Alfalfa (John Wright), Lightning (Marvin Arnold), Cueball (Jimmy Jacobs), Molasses (Stanley Hannah), Pork-Chop (Roger Marion) and Magneto (Eldon Smith).

More than 60 youngsters will strut their talents in the show, with an 18-voice chorus backing up the dozens of acts. Director of the mammoth show is Walter L. Hurd, while Prin. Harry Phillips is director of the endmen.

Mrs. Rowena Graham is in charge of ticket sales, Mrs. Jean Higgins prepared programs and the makeup crew will be Mrs. Margaret Dowler, Miss Phyllis Grimme and Prin. Phillips.

THE CURTAIN will go up on the show at 8 P. M. Thursday. Greeting the audience in the school auditorium will be the 18 members of the minstrel chorus, who will sing as an opener, "Smiles."

Eight vocal groups will appear in the first act of the show. They include: the Top Graders, Judy Smith, Sharon Garinger, Mary Ann Ford and Carolyn McClaskey; the Baby Dolls, Donna Smith, Barbara Allen, Joyce Wilson and Ernestine Hartman.

The Bobby Soxers, June Davis, Karen Johnson and Patty Fodor; the You-Name-Its, Nancy Campbell, Dorothy Steen and Charlotte Moats; the Tappers, Pam Baker, Linda Mickle and Cheryl Warnock; the Bob Z's, Elinor Tyree, Mary Dunn and Linda Allen; the Starlettes, Janet Hurley, Patty Long and Jackie Griffith and the Seniors, Anna May Coe, Ruth Young, Stanley Hannah and John Wright.

Other first-act features will be an accordian solo by Mary Ann Cremer; a pantomime by Patty Hopkins and Peggy Bonner; a trumpet solo by Donald Baird; a "style poem" by Rosalie Butcher and acts by endmen Wright, Arnold and Jacobs.

The first act will be wound up with a song by the chorus, which is slated to open act two with another number.

VOCAL GROUPS to perform in the second act include the Harlequins, Margaret Warnock, Little; the Krazy Kids, Gayle Morrow and Natalie Allen and the Dreamers, made up of four of the endmen, Wright, Mason, Arnold and Hannah.

Other headline acts will be a tumbling routine by Charles Jordan, Alva Hanners and Gary Arnold; an alto sax solo by Michael Jenks; a pantomime by Carolyn Ritenour and Jane Smith; a song by Charlotte Moats; a pantomime by Ruth Young and Martha Christensen; and acts by endmen Hanah, Smith and Mason.

Members of the chorus are Nan-

Griffith Candidate

ufacturer of large cabinets and walk-in meat coolers.

WHEN HE gave up traveling, he spent five years in public relations work with Columbus Automobile Club and then, because of failing health of his father, Charles M. Griffith, he came back to Fayette County in 1943 and settled down to dirt farming on the home farm on Hays Road.

Griffith said he feels that this varied experience in business, especially that he received as an auditor and accountant, is essential for a county auditor.

He also pointed out that his early life on the farm and the more than 10 years he has spent in farming give him a good understanding of the problems and values in an agricultural county such as Fayette County.

Mrs. Griffith is widely known throughout Fayette County as well as in the Court House; for the last six years, she has helped out in the treasurer's office during the tax collection period.

Griffith is a member of Grace Church, the Masonic order and holds all seven Grange degrees. He is a past master of Fayette Grange and is still active in all Grange activities.

He has given up farming and he and Mrs. Griffith are now in the process of moving into Washington C. H., where they have purchased a home on Washington Avenue.

The Jeffettes, Sharon Warnock, Pauline Davis and Little; the Krazy Kids, Gayle Morrow and Natalie Allen and the Dreamers, made up of four of the endmen, Wright, Mason, Arnold and Hannah.

Other headline acts will be a tumbling routine by Charles Jordan, Alva Hanners and Gary Arnold; an alto sax solo by Michael Jenks; a pantomime by Carolyn Ritenour and Jane Smith; a song by Charlotte Moats; a pantomime by Ruth Young and Martha Christensen; and acts by endmen Hanah, Smith and Mason.

Judge John Case Speaks to PTA

Judge Views Crime Among Youngsters

Speaking Tuesday night at a meeting of the Cherry Hill Parent-Teacher Association, Judge John P. Case of the Common Pleas Court, stated that a revival of spiritual values and assuming "the responsibility of training and guiding our youth" are the means of curbing crime.

A member of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church, she is survived by one son, Robert, now at Larsen Air Force Base at Moses Lake, Wash.; two daughters, Mrs. Irene Giebelhaus of Fairborn and Mrs. Erma Matson of Washington C. H.; one brother, Homer Wells of Chariton, Iowa; seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Friday at the Jeffersonville Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Fairview Cemetery in Jeffersonville.

Friends may call at the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home in Jeffersonville after 4 P. M. Thursday.

Services Are Held For Lyman Evans

Funeral services for Lyman Evans were held at 2 P. M. Tuesday in the New Holland Methodist Church.

Rev. Glenn Robinson offered prayer, read from the Scriptures, paid personal tribute to Mr. Evans and read the hymn, "Beyond the Sunset."

Miss Joy Hosler played the prelude and postlude at the organ.

The pallbearers, who cared for the flowers, were Howard Somers, Robert Rowland, T. E. McFadden, Ray Hines, John Gifford and Willard Lininger.

Burial was in the New Holland Cemetery.

Robert Lisk announced that the PTA would hold its annual spring roundup, with the date to be decided later.

It was also announced that the next meeting of the group would be a joint session with the other PTA groups in the city. The meeting will be held in the Washington C. H. High School auditorium April 10.

Dr. Thomas Dickerson, Cubmaster of Troop 249 introduced den room mothers in recognition of Boy Scout Week.

Introduced were den one mothers.

Mrs. Russell Riggs and Mrs. Paul Norris; den two mothers Mrs. Walter Rettig and Mrs. Barry Powell; den five mothers Mrs. Jane Kerns and Mrs. Robert Goldsherry; den six mothers Mrs. Harold Lindsay and Mrs. Charles Griffiths and den seven mothers Mrs. Orville Doug and Mrs. Harold Slagle.
